

Fire in His Eyes – Track description

With her first ever single, Jo Page announces herself as a fearless new voice in Australian country rock. “Fire in His Eyes” is a brooding, cinematic western epic that gallops through thick guitar riffs, a flamenco-driven bridge, and a vocal performance equal parts fierce and haunting.

Written by Jo Page and brought to life by acclaimed producer Matt Fell in Tasmania, “Fire in His Eyes” is more than a debut — it’s a statement. Evoking the spirit of outlaw legends while carving her own lane, Jo’s raw storytelling collides with a soundscape that feels born for the big screen.

“‘Fire in His Eyes’ was inspired by the cowboy legend of my grandfather and the darker reality of my father — a mysterious, badass story with spaghetti western grit and a touch of Mediterranean fire. It’s the song I’ve always wanted to write, the one I like to blast loud and feel in my chest, and I can’t believe it finally exists to share with the world.” — Jo Page

Already a force on the live circuit, Jo has performed more than 100 shows a year for over a decade, sharing stages with Australian icons like Shannon Noll, Birds of Tokyo, and Daryl Braithwaite. But with “Fire in His Eyes,” she steps boldly into her next chapter — transforming years of grit, passion, and performance into a debut that feels as timeless as it is explosive.

With her fearless storytelling and a sound as big as the desert sky, Jo Page’s arrival is nothing short of unforgettable.
